FACTS

35. The Plaintiff was employed by Defendants from in or about June 2010 until in or about April 2013. Plaintiff performed non-exempt duties, including cooking, cleaning and dishwashing.

36. Throughout the course of his employment with Defendants, Plaintiff regularly worked in excess of forty (40) hours each week.

37. From in or about June 2010 through April 2013, Plaintiff regularly worked as many as 12 hours each day without a meal break.

39. From in or about June 2010 to April 2013, Plaintiff worked approximately forty hours per week and was paid a weekly salary that ranged between $300.00 and $325.00. Plaintiff's regular hourly rate during this period ranged between approximately $4.00 and $8.00, usually below the statutory minimum wage.

40. Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff overtime at the rate of one and one-half times his regular hourly rate for all hours worked in excess of forty (40) each week.

41. Defendants failed to pay Plaintiff spread-of-hours pay for each day in which he was required to work more than ten (10) hours.

42. Defendants willfully disregarded and purposely evaded record keeping requirements of the FLSA and the New York Labor Law by failing to keep accurate time sheets, payroll records and post compliance posters.

43. Defendants are aware or should have been aware that federal and state law required it to pay employees performing non-exempt duties an overtime premium for hours worked in excess of forty per week.

44. Defendants' failure to pay Plaintiff overtime wages for hours worked by him in excess of 40 hours per week was willful.

45. Defendants' refusal and/or failure to pay overtime and spread of hours pay was knowing and willful.

place of business, telephone number of the employer, and other information required by §195 of the New York Labor Law.

Plaintiff received neither the thirty (30) minute noonday break period for employees who work shifts in excess of six (6) hours that extend over the noonday meal period, nor the twenty minutes between 5:00 p.m. and 7:00 p.m. for those employed on a shift starting before 11:00 a.m. and continuing after 7:00 p.m.

COLLECTIVE ACTION ALLEGATIONS

48. At all relevant times, Plaintiff and the other FLSA Collective Action Plaintiffs are and have been similarly situated, have had substantially similar job requirements and pay provisions, and are and have been subject to Defendants' decision, policy, plan and common policies, programs, practices, procedures, protocols, routines, and rules willfully failing and refusing to pay them overtime pay at a rate of one and one-half times their regular hourly rate for all hours worked in excess of forty (40) each week.

49. Upon information and belief, there are many current and former employees who are similarly situated to the Plaintiff, who have been underpaid in violation of the FLSA. The named Plaintiff is representative of those other workers and is acting on behalf of the Defendants' current and former employees' interests as well as his own interest in bringing this action.

50. Plaintiff, EFREN HERAS seeks to proceed as a collective action with regard to the First and Third Claim for Relief, pursuant to 29 U.S.C. § 216(b) on behalf of himself and the following similarly situated non-exempt employees:

All persons who are currently, or have been employed by the Defendants, at any time during the three (3) years prior to the filing of their respective consent forms, who performed non-exempt duties at SHAHAZAD, LLC, including but not limited to cleaners, cooks, and dishwashers.

51. The First and Third Claim for Relief is properly brought under and maintained as an opt-in collective action pursuant to 29 U.S.C. §216(b). The FLSA Collective Plaintiffs are readily ascertainable. For purposes of notice and other purposes related to this action, their names and addresses are readily available from the Defendants. These similarly situated employees should be notified of and allowed to opt-in to this action pursuant to 29 U.S.C. §216(b). Unless the Court promptly issues such a notice, persons similarly situated to the Plaintiffs, who have been unlawfully deprived of overtime pay and minimum wage in violation of the FLSA, will be unable to secure compensation to which they are entitled, and which has been unlawfully withheld from them by the Defendants.

FEDERAL RULE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE RULE 23
CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

52. Plaintiff also brings New York Labor Law claims on behalf of himself and a class of persons under Rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure consisting of all persons who work or have worked for Defendants in the State of New York at any time from the six (6) years prior to the filing of this complaint to the entry of the judgment in the case (the "Rule 23 Class").

53. The persons in the Rule 23 Class identified above are so numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable.

54. The Rule 23 Class Members are readily ascertainable. For purposes of notice and other purposes related to this action, their names and addresses are readily available from Defendants.

55. Defendants have acted or have refused to act on grounds generally applicable to the Rule 23 Class, thereby making appropriate final injunctive relief or corresponding declaratory relief with respect to the Rule 23 Class as a whole.

56. There are questions of law and fact common to the Rule 23 Class that predominate over any questions solely affecting individual members of the Rule 23 Class, including but not limited to:

- (a) Whether the New York Class Representatives and Rule 23 Class are non-exempt employees entitled to premium compensation for hours worked in excess of forty (40) hours per week;
- (b) Whether Defendants have failed to keep true and accurate time records for all hours worked by Plaintiff and the Rule 23 Class;
- (c) What proof of hours worked is sufficient when an employer fails in its duty to maintain true and accurate time records;
- (d) What were the policies, practices, programs, procedures, protocols and plans of Defendants regarding payment of overtime wages;
- (e) Whether Defendants failed and/or refused to pay Plaintiff and the Rule 23 Class overtime pay for hours worked in excess of 40 hours per work week within the meaning of New York Labor Law Article 19, §650 et seq., and the supporting New York State Department of Labor Regulations, 12 N.Y.C.R.R. Part 142;

- (f) the nature and extent of Rule 23 Class-wide injury and the appropriate measure of damages for the class;
- (g) Whether Defendants' general practice of failing and/or refusing to pay Plaintiff and the Rule 23 Class overtime pay for hours worked in excess of 40 hours per work week was done willfully or with reckless disregard of the wage and hour laws.

57. The claims of the Plaintiff are typical of the claims of the Rule 23 Class they seek to represent. Plaintiff and the Rule 23 Class work or have worked for Defendants in non-exempt positions and have not been paid overtime wages for the hours that they have worked in excess of 40 hours per week. Defendants have acted and have refused to act on grounds generally applicable to the Rule 23 Class, thereby making declaratory relief with respect to the Rule 23 Class appropriate.

58. Plaintiff's claims are typical of those claims which could be alleged by any member of the Class, and the relief sought is typical of the relief which would be sought by each member of the Class in separate actions. All the Class members were subject to the same corporate practices of Defendants, as alleged herein, of failing to pay overtime compensation for hours worked in excess of forty (40) hours each week.

59. Plaintiff will fairly and adequately represent and protect the interests of the Rule 23 Class.

60. Plaintiff has retained counsel competent and experienced in complex class actions and in labor and employment litigation.

61. A class action is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of this litigation, particularly in the context of a wage and hour litigation like the present action, where individual plaintiffs may lack the financial resources to vigorously prosecute a lawsuit in federal court against a corporate Defendant. Class action treatment will permit a large number of similarly situated persons to prosecute their common claims in a single forum simultaneously, efficiently, and without the unnecessary duplication of efforts and expense that numerous individual actions engender. The adjudication of individual litigation claims would result in a great expenditure of Court and public resources; however, treating the claims as a class action would result in a significant savings of these costs. The members of the Rule 23 Class have been damaged and are entitled to recovery as a result of Defendants' common and uniform policies, practices and procedures. Although the relative damages suffered by individual Rule 23 Class Members are not de minimis, such damages are small compared to the expense and burden of individual prosecution of this litigation. In addition, class treatment is superior because it will obviate the need for unduly duplicative litigation that might result in inconsistent judgments about Defendants' practices.

62. Current employees are often afraid to assert their rights out of fear of direct or indirect retaliation. Former employees are fearful of bringing claims because doing so can harm their employment, future employment, and future efforts to secure employment. Class actions provide class members who are not named in the complaint a degree of anonymity which allows for the vindication of their rights while eliminating or reducing those risks.
